Please Note that the areas exposed to shaving specifically chin area and around the mouth are very sensitive and It reacts to the night treatment easily

Kindly pay attention to the characteristics of this area when applying the night routine by using a smaller quantity than the rest of the face

It is also advised to isolate the corner of the mouth with lip ointments.

- > If you experience any dryness effect during the day, it's highly recommended to renew the application of the hydractive cream in order to sooth your skin during the treatment.

➤ The presence of the activator solution in your treatment regimen has some particularities in its application:

- Focus well on the areas of impurities by swabbing it with a cotton pad but without exaggerating in quantities.
- Try to minimize the use on the sensitive areas like around the nose and mouth since it reacts quickly and significantly.
- It is normal to have some local irritations especially at the beginning of the treatment such as redness and itching. In this case, you have to avoid and stop using the night treatment especially the activator solution on these areas for a few days until its complete healing.
